INDIA AND THE MIDDLE EAST

by

The HONORABLE WILLIAM O. DOUGIAS
Associate Justice, United States Supreme Court

* * *

Already heralded in syndicated columns and New York newspapers, this Overseas Press Club meeting promises to be one of the most provocative, stimulating events of the season. Guest of honor is Justice William O. Douglas, who himself made headlines last week when he announced he was not a Democratic presidential nomination candidate for the 1952 or any other election. Traveler, raconteur and jurist, Justice Douglas spent much of 1949 and 1950 in Iran, Syria, Lebanon, Israel and India.

Author of "Strange Lands and Friendly People", the new Harper & Brothers book, Justice Douglas next week takes OPC Members and their guests on a personally-conducted tour of the never-never frontier land bordering the Iron Curtain states. This will be a Program Committee offering few OPCers will want to miss.

BERNSTEIN of the New York Times, published by the Columbia University Press ...

In a recent broadcast from Vienna, CBS correspondent ALEXANDER KENDRICK reported he sensed a friendlier attitude by the Soviets of Fastern Europe. "Last night", he said, "for the first time in about six years, the Soviet 'peacemongers' fraternized with the American 'warmongers' and a good time was had by all. About 300 Russian soldiers and officers attended a sports meeting arranged by the American Army. They sat next to American GI's and drank American soft drinks. They wouldn't play basketball or volley ball with us -- said they didn't like our rules -- but they brought along a native dance that put mere basketball in a shade...It took the Soviet High Command three weeks to decide to do it ... There may be some clue in this new friendly conduct to the resumption of the Austrian treaty talks, scheduled for a week from Monday, but the Russians are taking their time about accepting our invitation to that one also" ...

TOKYO DATELINE: -- (Special to The Bulletin) -- Those who had to spend the holidays in Korea, either at Seoul or at the Munsan Press Train, were provided with some most-welcome special entertainment by both the Army and the Koreans. In the Seoul Press Billets' dining room the night after Christmas, a group of Korean orphans and children of Korean Navy personnel sang, danced and played piano and violin. Songs were both native and American, including novel versions of "Jingle Bells" and "Yankee Doodle". A 10-year-old boy played Chopin beautifully. Even the tiniest tot showed no shyness, but sang with enthusiasm and pleasure. Correspondents and military personnel applauded often to encourage more encores ...

At the Press Train early Christmas morning, the 8th Army Headquarters band and honor guard entertained. It was breakfast music (7:30 AM) and was a surprise treat before newsmen took off for the armistice conference at Panmumjom. The honor guardsmen did a fine job as a chorus ...

On New Year's Day at the Seoul Press Billets, the correspondents heard another program of Korean singing and piano solos. This time, a group of older Korean boys and girls provided excerpts from the operas. The Mayor of Seoul was host to newsmen and other Allied men and women at a New Year's party on January 3 in the Queen's Palace. Besides serving plenty of refreshments, the Mayor also brought forth some especially entertaining acts, including tumbling, native dances, the swining of flaming torches, etc. There was also a repeat performance of operatic numbers by the Korean group that had been enjoyed at the Press Billets earlier in the week ...

The Bulletin's Tokyo Correspondent participated in these events between temporary duties at the UNC headquarters in the apple orchard at Munsan...New arrival in Japan and Korea is Ed Kennedy of Scripps-Howard ... Another Scripps-Howard man, Jim Lucas, returned to Washington, D.C., recently ... Also slated to depart for the U.S. capital shortly is Dave McConnell of the New York Herald Tribune. -- (JACOBUS TenBERGE).

BONNET CHALLENGES CRITICS) OF FRENCH POLICY; SAYS) FRANCE DOING ALL IT CAN)

Henri Bennet, French Ambassador to the United States, criticized charges from some quarters that France was not playing her full part in opposing Communist aggression. He declared that "we are doing all we can to build up the defenses of the Western world." Mr. Bonnet spoke before a crowd of approximately 100 Club Members and guests at a luncheon on January 10th at the Hotel Pierre.

M. Bonnet stated further that the fall of the Pleven Government would cause no change in France's foreign policy unless the Communists come to power, "which I very much doubt." He added that the fundamentals of his nation's foreign policy, featuring resistance to Communist aggression and solidarity with the Western Allies, could not be changed "because they represent the convictions of the French people." He declared that France had been true to her Atlantic pact obligations, pointing to his nation's long fight against the Reds in Indo-China in which nearly 30,000 of our troops have already been killed." Iast year, the military budget had risen 75% with the 1952 budget at least 30% greater, he said, while his nation's promise to have ten divisions ready at the end of 1951 had also been kept.

President JOHN DALY presided at the luncheon at which M. Roger Seydoux, French Consul General in New York was also an honor guest. In addition to representatives from the French press and industries the Guest Book included: BETTY BETZ, LARRY BLOCHMAN, TED BERNSTEIN, KATHRYN CRAVENS, HENRY CASSIDY, GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT, PAULINE FREDERICK, EMANUAL FREEDMAN, WILLIAM P. GRAY, SANFORD GRIFFITH, Mrs. IRENE KUHN, ADELAIDE KERR and NOIA LUXFORD.

Editor: RALPH H. MAJOR, JR. Editorial Board: DONALD G. COE, Chairman, VICTOR IASKY, JOHN MOROSO III, CHARLES ROBBINS. Special Correspondents: DAVE RICHARDSON (London), DAVID SCHOENBRUN (Paris), JOSEF ISRAELS II (Vienna), GEORGE AXELISON (Stockholm), JOSEPH ROSAPEPE (Rome), JACOBUS Tenberge (Tokyo), EDWARD HUNTER (Hong Kong), CHARLES L. COLTMAN (Bangkok), DAVID BOGUSLAV (Manila), Mrs. PERCY WOOD (New Delhi), JOHN WILHELM (Mexico City).
